SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE [illegible]

Confessed Traitors

Some of the friends of the late Democratic party will not permit their fallen idol to rest silently in the infamy in which it lies buried. Regardless of all propriety, they still persist in dragging its hateful ghost obtrusively before the world. It strove to become [illegible] of its [illegible] measures which were too odious to be tolerated, much less to be adopted; its remaining authors, whom not even its dissolution can separate from it, continue to parade its vices before the eyes of men with as much assurance and ostentation as if they were virtues. There is no attempt to extenuate or conceal the faults and crimes which have condemned it to death; on the contrary its surviving friends delight to exhibit them in all their enormity. And what is more wonderful still, these mischievous and [illegible] errors are lauded just as if they were the unquestioned doctrines of truth. There are journals all over the country which publish these dogmas, not apologetically or ambiguously, as we might reasonably expect them to do through fear lest their real nature be understood, but with as much boldness as if what they teach were the only correct doctrine, and as if all else were false and wrong.

It is the duty of all loyal and honorable men to lay this party's record of infamy so clearly before the world, that its false assumptions of virtue shall never render any forgetful of its impurity, or cause it to be regarded in any other light than as a thing devoid of all rectitude and full of all inveracity, dishonor and wrong. Happily, this task is not a difficult one. Were the past records of the late party obliterated, its adherents would now supply us with weapons against it, that would stab it to death. Words which they use in order to laud it, others use for the purpose of condemning it. An example of this kind—and they are innumerable—we here subjoin:

The South seceded, not so much for a permanent dissolution of the Union, as the maintenance of true Democratic principles and their constitutional rights. A majority of the Democrats of the North, proved false to their principles, and false to their brethren whom they had advised and encouraged into extreme action. Never before in the history of political parties was such treachery known. No sooner had the South seceded than the Dickinsons and the Butlers forsook all their pledges, and set on the fierce dogs of war, and upon the heads of these political knaves rests the responsibility of the ensuing violence, murder and desolation. But we who have opposed this war, are called extremists, but let them never have the opportunity of truthfully saying that we proved recreant to our principles.

These words are not those of an enemy of the detestable party; they were spoken by one of its friends, and are now being reiterated by nearly all the partisan journals east and west. The speech from which this extract is taken, is quoted with every expression of approbation by those who insist that their party is still alive, that its principles are correct and that they will eventually prove triumphant. The extract we have given is embodied in an address delivered in New York on the 20th of April last, by the President of the so-called Jefferson Club. Many individuals who aspire to be the leaders of the dissolved organization, were present from all parts of the country. The meeting was a convivial one, and would have no political significance but for the fact that those who composed it were chiefly prominent in bringing the "Democratic" party into the position it assumed shortly after the commencement of the war.

If the doctrine [illegible] in this address be correct, the "Democratic" party has never been desirous of maintaining the Union, but its members are without doubt traitors as they confess [illegible] "The South seceded for the maintenance of Democratic principles." If this acknowledgement does not implicate the whole party in the rebellion, and show that it desired the success and the dissolution of the Union, it would be difficult to tell what the plainest words do actually mean. There is no need of going further for proof to show what the spirit and political tenets of the yet remaining members of the late party are. Their own admissions condemn them. They confess nothing more than that which every intelligent person has long known, but were it not now impossible to be surprised at any of their vagaries we should confess to having felt astonishment at the effrontery with which this and similar enunciations are made. To do a wrong thing, even in secret, and attempt afterwards to maintain a good character is a hopeless undertaking; to openly avow the most abominable opinions and expect them to triumph after their criminality is fully revealed, is a proof of the profoundest folly. What the late "Democratic" party strove for, and what the sentiments of its adherents were, cannot be concealed. These things are known against it and will be remembered whenever any who were connected with it presume to contend for the possession of the Government.

A Beggared Traitor.—It is said that since the surrender of the rebel army Robert E. Lee has been living at his house in Richmond at the expense of the government. Rations have been issued daily to Lee and his family. If not now under arrest, he is still living in splendor on the bounty of the Government. This rebel is not entitled even to the mean consideration of being permitted to receive his daily bread at the expense of the country he strove to destroy. If he cannot procure his own living, he ought to have the privilege of starving—a mode of death which he has inflicted on 50,000 of our countrymen. If he is not to be tried for treason he should be divested of every farthing of his property, and turned out to prog for himself. The crimes of the old traitor have been so great, that even in his direst extremity, tender hearted humanity will look unmoved upon him.

Accident near La Grande.—On the 15th as the circus troupe of Zoyara & Co. were descending the hill to Grand Ronde river on the [illegible] road, the brake of the passenger wagon gave way, precipitating the vehicle on the team. The team being unable to hold the wagon, ran down a steep declivity toward the river. Upon the wagon striking a tree with a tremendous force, the wagon [illegible] all the performers out, and severely injuring Misses Rose, Carlo Thompson, Miss [illegible] Brown, Prof. Hudson, and Wm. Sullivan. Joe Williams and Madame Zoyara were also slightly hurt. No one was fatally injured.

State Militia.—We learn that arms for four companies of State militia have recently been sent from the factory of Colt & Co. of this City, to supply such companies as have not been heretofore furnished. We are glad to see the commendable spirit manifested by many of our patriotic citizens in organizing an efficient military system in the State. Patrick Henry said "a well regulated militia, composed of gentlemen and yeomen is the natural strength and only security of a free government."

DATES TO JUNE 20.

Guilt of Jeff. Davis.

Washington, June 18.—The Government has ready [illegible] mentary proofs incontrovertible of the guilt of Davis in the matter of inhuman and [illegible] treatment of Union prisoners. When [illegible] to the public as facts will be given [illegible] had [illegible].

[illegible] has withdrawn [illegible] vessels [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] removed restrictions [illegible] and has withdrawn from [illegible] to the [illegible] belligerents.

The Civil Government of North Carolina.

Washington, June 20.—Gov. Holden has issued [illegible] to the people of North Carolina. He informs them that a convention to [illegible] amend the State Constitution and to provide for the election of a Governor and Legislature [illegible] the civil machinery in full operation [illegible] at as early a period as practicable. [illegible] Loyalty to the National Government [illegible] qualified delegates to the convention and [illegible]. Those desiring to [illegible] will be required to take the oath of allegiance and prove their good will to the National Government. The Governor appeals to the people to renew with cheerfulness their civil pursuits and their interest in the prosperity of the State and Nation, at [illegible] reminding them that all the happiness that they have or that they can hope for both themselves or children is indissolubly linked with the Union.

In an [illegible] the colored people that they [illegible] informs them that it rests with them [illegible] whether their freedom is a blessing or an injury. He counsels them to cultivate habits of [illegible] and industry.

New York, June 20.—Newbern dates of June 15th [illegible] Governor Holden thinks the number of loyal voters can be completed [illegible] have the State Convention election [illegible] by the [illegible] of August.

Pardons for Rebels—Divers Items.

New York, June 20.—The Washington special says that thirty four warrants for pardon were issued [illegible] by Secretary of State. All parties citizens of North Carolina, none of them being [illegible]. Pardons were granted upon the suggestion of Gov. Holden. The President gives preference to persons in humble positions in matters of hearing petitions for pardon, and has determined to hold under advisement for the present all applications from men of distinction. The President also directs that petitions for pardon be referred specially to Governors of the several States where the applicants reside, so that the best evidence can be obtained as to the merits or demerits of the petitioners. Also that Governors in each case recommend such action as to them may seem just and proper.

[illegible] Henry A. Wise, who had control of that terrible prison pen, is also here in confinement awaiting trial for murdering our prisoners. A Judge Advocate has already been assigned and is now preparing testimony. Col. Gibbs states that one of the modes of procuring funds for the rebellion was to obtain all the greenbacks in possession of Union prisoners and pay them at the rate of $400 in Confederate money for $1 in U. S. currency.

Caleb Lyon, Governor of Idaho, is now here. His claim is that a [illegible] the territorial legislature passed an ordinance removing the capital from Lewiston to Boise City, whereupon the Governor gathered up his archives and was about to move when the indignant citizens of Lewiston drove him from the territory. The question of a new Governor is now before the President.

Portsmouth, Va., was on Friday last, turned over to the civil authorities after having been under military rule for nearly four years.

Other southern cities will be speedily surrendered to the civil authorities.

Major General Meade says that Hancock's corps will be mustered out of the service. Also that the Divisions of the army of the Potomac will retain their organization and that corps will not be broken up.

Transport Sunk—Terrible Loss of Life.

Cairo, June 12.—The United States transport Kentucky, with 900 passengers, principally paroled soldiers and their families, left Shreveport for New Orleans on the 9th. About 9 o'clock on the same night it was discovered that the boat was taking water too fast, and before she could land she sunk in twenty feet of water. The loss of life must have been terrible, the boat being crowded and sinking inside of three minutes. It is supposed that 2 or 300 persons perished. She had 2,000 horses on board, all of which were lost, except three. The passengers lost everything. The paroled prisoners on board were principally members of Missouri regiments. The officers of the steamer were saved.

Rolla, Missouri, Burned.

St. Louis, June 20.—All the business portion of Rolla, Missouri, was burned last night. Loss is estimated at two hundred thousand dollars with but little insurance.

Consul to Zurich—Reduction of the Army.

New York, June 20.—The Commercial's Washington dispatch says Charles A. Page, newspaper correspondent, has been appointed United States Consul to Zurich, Switzerland.

It is confidently expected that the army will be reduced to one hundred thousand men by New Year. President Johnson is said to favor reduction [illegible] as a measure of returning to specie payments, which he will recommend to Congress.

Jeff. Thompson's Army.

Cairo, June [illegible].—Flag of truce boats have arrived with [illegible] Jeff. Thompson's army, including [illegible] paroled. Jeff. Thompson came as far as Memphis, where he remains awaiting the President's decision relative to his petition for pardon.

Gen. Reynolds has taken proper steps towards establishing civil courts throughout Northern Arkansas. Garrisons have been established along White river.

Miscellaneous.

Washington, June 19.—The family of President Johnson and his daughter Mrs. Patterson have arrived to take charge of the Executive Mansion.

New Orleans [illegible] to the 14th report that a [illegible] was at Southwest Pass. Additional details of the war between Brazil and Paraguay [illegible] the report of the defeat of the Brazilian troops.

The steamer James Adger from Cape Haytien on the [illegible]th has arrived. Cape Haytien has been in a state of siege for seven days.

New York, June 20.—The Herald's correspondent says Maximilian has given a liberal subsidy to the Vera Cruz and New York steamship line and Ben Holladay's line from Mazatlan to San Francisco.

An American Company has the exclusive privilege of building and running horse railroads in the City of Mexico. Another company has a charter for a railway of one hundred and twenty miles in length, between Queretaro and Guanajuato.

Patents for a large number of American inventions have been granted.

There are now in Mexico about forty thousand European troops. Of these twenty eight thousand are French, including Zouaves, eight thousand Austrians and [illegible] Belgians.

Duke Gwin has completely collapsed. He is [illegible] in Mexico, which he has [illegible] for several [illegible]. Maximilian never granted him an interview, and [illegible] letter with him. He is quite ignorant of his existence, while [illegible] the threshold of [illegible]. Maximilian is every day talking with the Americans about important enterprises for developing the resources of his Empire.

Foreign News.

Liverpool, June 18th.—Additional by the [illegible]: The Duke of Argyle writes a [illegible] to the Edinburgh [illegible].

Halifax, June [illegible].—The [illegible] from Liverpool [illegible] and Queenstown on the 11th has arrived.

Napoleon had returned to Paris.

[illegible] May [illegible].—It is stated that the American Ministers at Pekin and Japan are returning [illegible].

News of Kirby Smith's surrender is hailed with [illegible] as the termination of the war.

The Army and Navy Gazette, referring to the surrender of the last Confederate General, says by the surrender the Federal troops have been brought face to face with the French outposts on the Rio Grande.

The same paper [illegible] what it terms the bloodthirsty design of President Johnson [illegible] back from the horrible purpose he threatens to carry out. While the lists of southern men are [illegible] the punishment of the leaders is already terrible enough.

On the 8th an express train on the South Eastern road, carrying passengers from France to London, was thrown off the track near Staplehurst. [illegible] persons were killed and twenty wounded. Dickens was on the train but escaped without injury.

Sir Joseph Paxton had [illegible] after [illegible].

W. H. Russell [illegible] out of the Great Eastern [illegible] into an account of the laying of the Atlantic cable. The work will be illustrated by Robert Douglas.

Cyrus W. Field had returned to London after visiting Valentia to arrange for laying the [illegible] end of the cable. [illegible] was [illegible] laying the cable.

The official diplomatic correspondence between England and America is published relative to the duties and privileges of British Consuls in America. [illegible] Seward cheerfully according to British Consuls all the privileges enjoyed by American Consuls in the British dominions.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times, under date of June 8th, writes as follows:

It is certain that the Marquis [illegible] who has arrived at Paris, was sent by Maximilian for the express purpose of explaining the critical state of affairs in Mexico, the menacing attitude of the Americans and the fear of his Majesty that a war would be declared with the United States now that the war with the Southern people is over. The French Government has thereupon given the Washington Cabinet to understand very plainly that Mexico is under the protection of France, that France won't allow any power to attack that [illegible], that filibusters and adventurers entering Mexican territory with hostile designs will, if taken in arms, be hanged or shot without loss of time or mercy. The United States Government, which is [illegible] with France, [illegible] is expected to do all in its power to keep its subjects from injuring her prestige. The Washington Cabinet has no desire at this time to be on bad terms with this country, and will no doubt act prudently in this affair. The language and tone of France is what may be called decidedly energetic. It may not be literally correct, as I mentioned, but it is substantially so.

On the 8th inst., in the Corps Legislatif, Jules Favre made a speech strongly condemning the Mexican expedition. He maintained that the position of Maximilian was precarious, and apprehended a conflict with America. M. [illegible] in reply, stated that the position of Maximilian was in no way precarious. He pointed out the progress which had been made in Mexico. The effective force of the expeditionary corps would not exceed 26,000 men. Relative to the apprehensions of a conflict with America, the speaker quoted the expression of President Lincoln just before his unholy death, to show that they need not be entertained. He said those expressions had become a political test and will be carried out in good faith by those whom President Lincoln no longer governs, but whom his memory inspires. The United States, continued the speaker, now only think of the widows and orphans of their civil war and do not contemplate the shedding of more blood on their frontiers. The debate on the American question was further continued in the Corps Legislatif on the 9th; nothing new was developed. [illegible] defended the course of the government.

The text of the dispatch dated May 22d, addressed to Bigelow, American Minister, by the State Department at Washington, is published. It refers to the old friendship existing between the two nations. A friendship [illegible] the Minister, which is cordially reciprocated on our side. The Pall Mall Gazette learns that several members of the French opposition are about to send an address to President Johnson reminding him that the first act of the French Republic in 1848 was to abolish capital punishment for political offences, and suggesting to the Government of the United States the application of this principle with regard to their own political prisoners of the present time.

The Emperor Napoleon arrived at Toulon the [illegible] of June. Before quitting Algeria he issued a proclamation to the French army of America, thanking them for their labor and extolling them for soldierly actions.

The resignation by Prince Napoleon of the Vice Presidency of the council and Presidency of the exhibition commission is accepted.

The Empress has issued a decree declaring all warnings given to French journals null and void.

Cape of Good Hope mails from Table Bay to May 9th have been received. The war excitement along the frontier had [illegible]. There was nevertheless much uneasiness and dissatisfaction with the policy on national affairs.

Shanghai, May 17.—Prince Kung is reinstated in the Presidency of the Foreign Board. [illegible] declining [illegible] inactive.

Liverpool, June 9.—Lord Palmerston had tendered a pension of fifteen hundred pounds to Mrs. Cobden, who gratefully declined.

There were fifty wrecks and much loss of life from a storm in the Baltic.

It is reported that the Spanish troops have been ordered to withdraw from San Domingo at once.

The Emperor of Brazil, in opening the Chambers, referred to the [illegible] affair in which the United States Government acknowledged the justice of Brazilian reclamation.

The Yellow Fever Plot.—Proof has been recently afforded the people of the Bermudas of the character of the rebels whom they welcomed to their Islands and with whom they have voluntarily associated. These villainous scoundrels they chose to regard as gentlemen and representatives of the modern high minded chivalry. It has at last come to their knowledge that the persons with whom they have been on so intimate terms are a class of poisoners and murderers. The yellow fever was prevailing extensively at the Bermudas and a noble souled and patriotic Southern gentleman who called himself "Dr. Blackburn," collected numerous trunks of infected clothing to be forwarded to New York and other cities to spread the epidemic there. Some of these trunks took a direction different from what the honorable doctor intended, and were carried to Nassau. Recent revelations show that this was the origin of the fever at the place last named. Some thousands of the sympathizing protectors of the blockade runners have died at Nassau from this cause. In the early spring some of the remaining trunks were seized at the Bermudas and the parties implicated, except Blackburn, who had escaped to Halifax, arrested. The whole affair underwent investigation by the authorities of Bermuda and the guilt of the prisoners proved beyond cavil or doubt. To us who have learned to put a proper estimate upon the rebel character, the matter occasions no surprise. The whole scheme is in perfect keeping with the atrocities of Libby prison and of Andersonville, and with conspiracies to murder women and children on railway trains, to fire densely populated cities and to assassinate the heads of the Government. Though the people of New Providence and the Bermudas made their harbors a place of refuge for thieves and pirates, it is to be regretted that they had to suffer severely from the ravages of the epidemic which their welcome guests introduced, [illegible] taught all of the character of the wretches whose company they so eagerly sought really was.

Washington Territory.—Very full returns of the late election in Washington Territory have reached us. Mr. Denny is elected to Congress by a majority that will fully reach 1,200. Two years ago the Copperheads carried the territory by two hundred majority. Considering that the number of votes polled does not probably exceed four thousand, we believe the present political change is without a parallel. But in the next issue of the Oregon Copperhead papers we expect to be told as usual, that "Abolitionism is fearfully on the decline."

Maj. Gen. Ord.—Our dispatches this morning state that Major General Ord, late commander of the Army of the James, is assigned to the military command of the Department of Oregon, with his headquarters at Portland.

Promoted.—Sergeant Samuel M. Parsons of the Oregon Cavalry has been by the Governor, commissioned Second Lieutenant.

A communication signed by numerous [illegible] on Front street in relation to the obstruction of the street by the building known as the [illegible] Book store, was received and [illegible] upon the table.

The committee on health and police reported [illegible] the petition of A. Hebert and twenty five [illegible] ought to be granted.

[illegible] the report was committed [illegible] mittee and they were instructed [illegible] ordinance. We believe this related to the [illegible] of cows or bulls on the [illegible] but like Mrs. Partington, "we can't tell which."

The following claims against the city were [illegible] and warrants for payment authorized on the [illegible] the appropriate funds [illegible] E. M. Burton $40 and T. G. Lord $ [illegible] in testing the accuracy of the [illegible] placed by the Surveyor; Henry Hanst, [illegible] J. H. Egan, $109 for work done on [illegible] and public property; H. P. [illegible] Anderson, $5, and J. F. McCoy, $10 [illegible] in city canvass; H. L. Pittock, advertising election notice $10, Lewis [illegible] for work on cisterns. The bill of [illegible] for acknowledging twenty [illegible] deeds at [illegible] was authorized to be paid, and several [illegible] warrants were referred.

[illegible] Cook offered an ordinance appropriating [illegible] to remove obstructions from the [illegible] of the Willamette river, which was [illegible] first and second time.

[illegible] ordinance providing for the time and manner of grading Front street north of Morrison [illegible] of Pine streets, passed under a suspension of the rules.

[illegible] ordinance relating to the inspection of the [illegible] of the City Treasurer providing for the [illegible] keeping of the public funds [illegible] passed a [illegible] reading and was referred to the committee [illegible] judiciary.

The several ordinances in reference to salaries [illegible] officers came up and were finally disposed of [illegible] that regarding the City Attorney which [illegible] indefinitely postponed. The salary of City [illegible] was fixed at $1,000 per annum and that [illegible] Auditor at $1,000.

[illegible] ordinance to aid in celebrating the Fourth [illegible] was passed, $700 being appropriated. [illegible] Gilmore offered a resolution that [illegible] companies of the city be invited by the [illegible] participate in the coming celebration, and [illegible] Chief Engineer be furnished with a copy [illegible] invitation.

[illegible] to adopt a discussion followed, the [illegible] seeming to be that if the firemen had [illegible] enough to turn out on the [illegible] and felt disposed to stand back on their [illegible] for a special invitation, the Council should [illegible] to extend it, the resolution was lost. [illegible] the Council adjourned to meet on [illegible] evening.

[illegible] — [illegible] to learn that a method has been discovered [illegible] can be prevented from mildewing, [illegible] otherwise destroyed before the [illegible] One who has successfully [illegible] the last five years in this [illegible] By this means he has been [illegible] fruit ripe, and in a most healthy state, [illegible] of June. The scion should be inserted [illegible] above the ground into the stalk [illegible] will support and nourish it [illegible] in the fullest and best quality of the [illegible] variety. It is desired that others try the experiment and give us the result of their efforts. There are [illegible] in this city the present season that have [illegible] healthy gooseberries, and the above experiment [illegible] worth a trial.

[illegible] OF BEARS.—By the steamer Brother Jonathan [illegible] the arrival of a collection of bears [illegible] to be added to Hoop & Co's Museum and Menagerie [illegible] among the collection is a [illegible] and ferocious animal, approximating closely [illegible] bear. In color it is [illegible] a monster of [illegible] of a bear. This [illegible] caught in the wilds of South America. The [illegible] also comprises two magnificent [illegible] bear, a veritable sea [illegible] and Mexican wolf, and a [illegible] of skulls. These [illegible] Menagerie an excellent affair.

[illegible]—Mr. G. W. Simpson, fruit and vegetable [illegible] Taylor street, has placed upon our table [illegible] of the finest cherries we have ever seen [illegible] They are of two varieties, the [illegible] Black Tartarian. They excel in flavor [illegible] even the delicious strawberry [illegible] of the printers. [illegible] remembrance of us [illegible] little episodes are what tend to make [illegible]

[illegible] FLOUR.—Messrs. [illegible] & [illegible] agents [illegible] the Brooklyn Mills Flour have placed the reporter [illegible] obligations for a sample of the same. It was given [illegible] that we might give our opinion of it [illegible] been served in the same way—and with [illegible] the Brooklyn Mills Flour. Our [illegible] well pleased with her [illegible] bread" from it—and we think [illegible] the article to all who [illegible] for them.

[illegible] We are requested to give notice that [illegible] Schmidt of the United Brethren [illegible] service tomorrow in the Hall [illegible] on Front street. Services in German [illegible] at 10½ o'clock and in English [illegible] citizens and others of Portland and vicinity [illegible] fully invited to attend.

[illegible]—Prof. [illegible] has received [illegible] metallic ink—[illegible] to be indelible, [illegible] documents in which a [illegible] this ink will become [illegible]

[illegible]—In the Circuit Court yesterday the [illegible] was submitted to the jury [illegible] of guilty, but [illegible] Charles Prior, arraigned on a charge [illegible] battery, was acquitted on a plea of former [illegible] the same [illegible]

[illegible]—The directors of the Portland and [illegible] Road Company will meet at the White [illegible] preliminaries for a new [illegible] the affairs of the company.

[illegible] QUARTZ.—[illegible] from entirely responsible parties at Salem [illegible] much new [illegible] Santiam mines [illegible] In the White [illegible] quartz weighing twelve [illegible] was taken out of the tunnel [illegible] this ledge. Quantities [illegible] fully $ [illegible] "White Bull" recently [illegible] tunnel is now one hundred feet [illegible] are fair for very [illegible] Santiam stock [illegible] mines at our own doors which may [illegible] those of Idaho in a short time. [illegible]

[illegible] of our [illegible] little that is [illegible] the winter [illegible] the spring [illegible] will [illegible] the water begins to [illegible] speedily [illegible]

[illegible] [illegible] about [illegible] liberty [illegible] Magnolia and the [illegible] girls are whirled in the mazes of quadrille and waltz [illegible] powerful [illegible] Magnolia is [illegible] There John Kelly scrapes the cat gut [illegible] strings and [illegible] and the clink of glasses is heard at the counter, and the rattle of checks is heard at tables where lovers of faro and monte most congregate. There are not many evenings but I judge from last Sunday that the belligerently inclined save their efforts for that especial day. On that occasion the entertainment was varied. Many had gone to Centerville to attend the examination of the men arrested for the late murder. There was some excitement at the prospect of spontaneous justice being administered, but those who remained made [illegible] around the plaza [illegible] liberal libations of whisky could [illegible] Some of our times in the afternoon I heard the cry raised of "a fight!" and from all around the plaza, and all around the by streets [illegible] rush [illegible] the waiting crowd [illegible] thing to turn up. The stage from Idaho city arrived to lend variety, and a dog fight afforded the climax of the day's enjoyments. Sunday the girls dance all day as well as all night, and the music from the two rival and neighboring saloons comes streaming across the plaza in a confused jumble of [illegible] harp, fiddle, banjo and [illegible] melody that failed to harmonize [illegible] striking commentary [illegible] fused [illegible] Sunday passed without any important [illegible] The robbers and murderers were not hung though the opinion prevails that they need it, and I am inclined to think will receive it.

THE LATE MURDERS

There seems, beyond doubt, to be a great number of roughs and villains harboring in this mining region. The men who are now arrested are believed to have had a hand in the late atrocious murders, and also in many other evil deeds. One old scoundrel who has several aliases, was in possession of burglar's tools and skeleton keys, has resided in the Basin for several years, had no business, no mines, no trade and has always taken plenty of dust to San Francisco each fall. He is a rough-looking [illegible] grizzly bearded fellow and the two young men arrested with him are his accomplices and pupils, no doubt. The feeling of the community strongly [illegible] against them. Their examination is not completed yet, and I hear that the principal witness has been run off. Men become afraid to testify against organized bands of ruffians and so the ends of justice are frequently thwarted here.

MINING AROUND PLACERVILLE

I am inclined to think the mining going on about here is generally paying good wages. The water has been too high for working the creeks to advantage here, and the work has been done on the hills. The rim rock paid very well last year, but the complaint is that it is much less profitable now. It is claimed that the hillside for miles around will pay from top to bottom and the prospect is that while the richest mines have been found and worked that good wages can be made here for years to come. The working of the creeks will commence now soon. I have been around over the hills and among the miners camps and find many busy and few idle men though they say that over at Idaho City the number of idle men is great. This is only the entrance to the basin. I shall visit the other town soon.

There is much interest felt in quartz here but it is neglected now while water affords means to work the placers. The famous Pioneer ledge is about a mile and a half above here and within four miles are some dozen other ledges some of which have been tested and proved to be rich, though the mill erected on the Pioneer failed to pay because the gold was mostly contained in sulphurets, which the mill was not prepared to work to advantage. The mill has been moved, and it is believed a larger one will be put on the ledge in time. The quartz interest around here appears to languish. The ledges are some of them owned in Portland. It takes money to develop and work quartz to advantage and the capital is not here to put to work to make these ledges valuable. When the water fails and men get time I doubt [illegible] ledges around Placerville will be developed more. The work already done shows to good advantage.

THE "SALVADOR" PIRATES.—The manner in which Frank Pixley, counsel for the Salvador pirates, conducted the defence at the recent trial of those culprits at San Francisco, is spoken of in terms of the severest censure by the loyal papers of California. Mr. Pixley stepped aside from the real purpose of the defence to heap laudation upon the miscreants whose object of rapine and murder was happily averted by the vigilance of the authorities. The proof against the villains was decisive, and accordingly they [illegible] tempted to justify their conduct by trying to show that the enterprise they contemplated was an honorable and legitimate mode of warfare. The Call thus speaks of Pixley and of Mr. Lake's reply to his assumptions:

Delos Lake, Esq., yesterday did himself great credit as a lawyer and a loyal man. In his argument in the Salvador pirate case he not only adduced able legal doctrines in support of his position and in [illegible] of the legal grounds assumed by his opponents, but he utterly demolished the political doctrines in favor of secession [illegible] by Frank Pixley. Mr. Lake [illegible] the champion of Secession and Rebellion and left the advocate of the legality of piracy [illegible] an argument [illegible] Pixley's false [illegible] into tatters and [illegible] the promulgator of these [illegible] The [illegible] of [illegible] held up as an [illegible] the world's scorn. All who heard Mr. Lake's masterly [illegible] of Pixley as he appeared in the character of the [illegible] of Secession and Rebellion [illegible] in pronouncing it the most [illegible] and convincing argument made in this community on any [illegible] Had Pixley confined himself to his legal duties in defence of his Rebel clients he would have been spared [illegible] most severe [illegible] flagellation ever administered to any man on this side of the continent.

Ego and Echo.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

I asked of Echo, t'other day
(Whose words are often few and funny)
What to a novice she could say
Of courtship, love and matrimony?
Quoth Echo plainly,—"Matter-o'-money!"

Whom should I marry? should it be
A dashing damsel, gay and pert—
A pattern of inconstancy;
Or selfish mercenary flirt?
Quoth Echo, sharply,—"Nary flirt!"

What if—aweary of the strife
That long has lured the dear deceiver—
She promised to amend her life,
And sin no more; can I believe her?
Quoth Echo, with decision,—"Leave her!"

But if some maiden with a heart
On me should venture to bestow it,
Pray should I act the wiser part
To take the treasure, or forego it?
Quoth Echo, very promptly,—"Go it!"

But what if, seemingly afraid
To bind her fate in Hymen's fetter,
She vow she means to die a maid,
In answer to my loving letter?
Quoth Echo, rather coolly,—"Let her!"

What if, in spite of her disdain,
I find my heart entwined about
With Cupid's dear delicious chain
So closely that I can't get out?
Quoth Echo, laughingly,—"Get out!"

But if some maid with beauty blest,
As pure and fair as Heaven can make her,
Will share my labor and my rest
Till envious death shall overtake her?
Quoth Echo (sotto voce),—"Take her!"

The Public Debt

Now that the war is over, some unthinking and yet not evilly disposed people may grow restive under the taxation which it is still necessary to endure. But all ought to remember that, during the last five years the Government has been obliged to anticipate the resources of the future to provide for the wants of the passing day. The public debt is now very large, and it must be paid. It ought to be discharged just as soon as possible, in order that the country may not feel the continual burden of paying interest upon it. The New York Journal of Commerce has an excellent article upon the subject of our debt and the propriety of paying it at once. We herewith give it in full:

There is nothing more promising of good to the material interests of this country than the prevailing tone of the discussions relating to the public debt. We took the ground many months ago, that a constant familiarity with the idea that this debt is not a weight to be carried on the neck of the nation forever, or even to be left to those who shall come after us, but a burden to be removed within the life time of those now on the stage, is the surest method of bringing all classes of the people to a hearty recognition of the obligations thus imposed. To assume that the support of this load would bring with it no sense of weariness, no desire to shake it off as a terrible incubus upon industry and national enterprise, seemed to us the likeliest way to let it fall with a crushing weight upon the public shoulder at the very moment we should need all our strength as we emerged from the excitement of the conflict. To promise the country at such an hour, no relief in the future—to hug the burden as a blessing to be desired instead of an evil to be cured; and thus to task the patience without any limit to endurance, appeared to us the certain method of inviting the attention of the sufferers to the most desperate remedy. Hope is the only topic that will enable us to bear the ills of life, and no oppression is so intolerable as that from which there is little prospect of escape.

These views have been very generally accepted by our cotemporaries in all parts of the country. A few partisan papers professed to see in our assumption that the debt must be paid within the lifetime of this generation, a covert attack upon the public credit, but the majority of our exchanges copied our articles with a hearty acknowledgment that they were written in the best interests of the country, and the discussion has become more and more hopeful down to the present time. The New York Times has enjoyed the unenviable distinction of standing alone in its desires to leave the debt to the disposal of those who may come after us. Agreeing with the eccentric legislator who objected to doing anything for posterity because posterity had never done anything for him, the editors of that paper contend that "this generation should not undertake to rid the nation" of the incumbrance. They propose "that we should content ourselves with the payment of semi-annual interest, and a comparatively slow reduction of the principal," and leave the burden to "the next two or three generations."

The present Secretary of the Treasury, we are glad to see, does not agree with the Times, and Dr. Elder, of that Department, has prepared a very elaborate document, recently published by Mr. J. Cooke in our columns, in which he argues for the entire discharge of the debt within twenty-five years. We had intended to notice the plan therein prepared at the date of publication, but the crowded state of our columns prevented it. The argument assumes the present annual product of the national wealth at $4,318,000,000. It arrives at this by taking the annual product given in the census of 1860 ($2,870,000,000), and adding the ratio of increase, 8½ per cent per annum, as shown in the gain from the returns of 1850. It continues the gain at this rate until 1870, when it drops the ratio to 7 1-6. The calculation is, that beginning with 1870 and applying 1 per cent of the annual product of the country to the principal of the debt, it will all be paid in twenty years from the date named, with a liberal margin besides. The paper is one of the best which has been prepared since the discussion was commenced, and in many respects is unrivalled. In tone and method of arrangement, it will bear the sharpest criticism, and its publication must serve a very useful purpose.

If we were disposed to dissent from any of its conclusions, it would be with the design of urging a view of the situation even more hopeful than the one thus produced. We see no reason for waiting until 1870 before commencing the work of reducing the debt, and we should shorten the period to be occupied in its liquidation. If we assume the debt on the first of January, 1866 at $3,000,000,000, we cannot calculate upon an annual charge for interest at less than $180,000,000 for some years to come. This is a little more than is assumed in the plan under view. But with an annual revenue to be increased as the author estimates in the next five years from $225,000,000 to $365,000,000 per annum, we are sure that we ought to do more than the writer proposes, or simply to pay the interest and maintain the ordinary expenses of a peace establishment. The latter he fixes at $200,000,000 per annum. The average expenses of our government for five years previous to the war were only $65,000,000 and we are sure, when the war is over $100,000,000 a year will seem a large sum to the laboring classes in view of the heavy taxes. One or the other of these assumptions must be abandoned. We must return to the old economy under which ours was the cheapest government in the world, or we must consent to relinquish the high ratio of our annual increase in wealth. The industrious poor of all nations were attracted to this land because of the inducements it offered in its freedom from irksome restraints, and the trifling share exacted from the product of labor for the public treasury. At the best, the attraction here must be somewhat diminished, but the annual charge of $200,000,000 for the support of peace establishment, will leave little hope of an early relief from oppressive burdens. Reduce this by one half and apply the proceeds to the principal of the debt. The economy thus practiced would be a mighty lever in raising the public credit. There is no reason why we should not substitute at an early date a 4 per cent obligation at par for that portion of the bonds which are redeemable at the option of the Treasury, but as the long bonds to run at 6 per cent cannot be thus reduced without a violation of good faith, the annual charge must even then be nearly 5 per cent on the aggregate indebtedness.

When the writer whose plan we have noticed speaks of the near probability of a tax on exports he anticipates, of course, a change in the organic law by consent of three fourths of the States, as such a charge on exports is now forbidden by the Constitution in the most explicit terms. We have grave doubts as to the policy of the heavy tax on commerce which many are ready to impose. The country may yet be glad to encourage this source of wealth by relieving it of an undue share of the public burden. In the meantime if the discussion of this theme can be continued in this hopeful spirit, much good must result to all concerned. If we once assume that the debt must be paid at an early date, we shall find that the resolute earnestness of the American people will soon discover a practicable method of accomplishing the work. The will is sure to hew out the way.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, June 23d, 1865.

There has been a marked improvement in the [illegible] branches of trade during the past week, [illegible] business being transacted than during any week of the present season.

The flour market appears to be drooping, but the four brands first mentioned in our report [illegible] prices below [illegible] hold firm at those quotations. Outside brands are held at jobbing prices of $11 ⅌ barrel, although buyers are paying but $10 @ $10 75, and some particular brands have sold at prices lower, ranging from $9 to $10 ⅌ barrel.

In grain there is no material change. Buyers are offering $1 40 ⅌ bushel for Wheat, and jobbing at [illegible] ⅌ lb [illegible] advance on prices from first hands. Oats are improving, and sales at [illegible] are noted, but the ruling figure seem to be 50c ⅌ bushel.

Bacon is firm at the old rates. The jobbing trade in Bacon and most articles of produce continues somewhat dull.

The most active movements for the week have been in groceries and all staple articles are firm at previous quotations.

The Wool Market.

PORTLAND, June 23, 1865.

There is nothing important to report in wool transactions for the week. Considerable quantities have come forward, and some small lots have been shipped, but the most part appears to be placed in store for a proper grading, every two weeks when it will be forwarded direct to New York. The ruling prices of the week have ranged from 20 to 21 cents ⅌ lb, and offers have been [illegible]

The people of Southern Oregon are directing some attention to the raising of sheep, and the breeding of fine [illegible] thought will do more to bring about the palmy days of 1857-8, than anything else. We agree with a cotemporary who says that farm [illegible] no dependence on the mines. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus: CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and ease of opening [illegible]

318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

Gentlemen [illegible] March 20, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND, Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: [illegible] made by Mrs. Lillie [illegible]

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so-called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

[illegible] Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we visited McKenney & Hardy, just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make), and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. M. & H.'s cellar, such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring how yet no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed.) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

The Only Protection

Against Fire and Burglars.

For the last Fifteen Years

This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that out of one of our Safes by means of Burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation.

A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at 318 Battery Street, San Francisco.

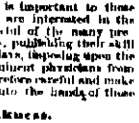
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough, St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Cambridge Place, Pad., Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary, Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road, Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be [illegible]

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fœtid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
